Electrical Safety Management Course – at your own workplace?

Ensure your organisation benefits from the structured approach to assessing and managing risk by rolling it out across the whole operation.

If you have a minimum of 12 potential delegates, we would be pleased to explore your requirements to see if further training in-house would be suitable for your staff.

Advantages include

- Open discussions in a safe environment encourages honest reflection on how incidents have happened in the past
- Save on travel and hotel expenses
- Save lives if all staff work to the correct processes

To discuss your requirements please contact
